our feet into the ways of knowledge and Life Everlasting; we gratefully and lovingly dedicate this, the fifteenth volume of the Asburian.

FOREWORD

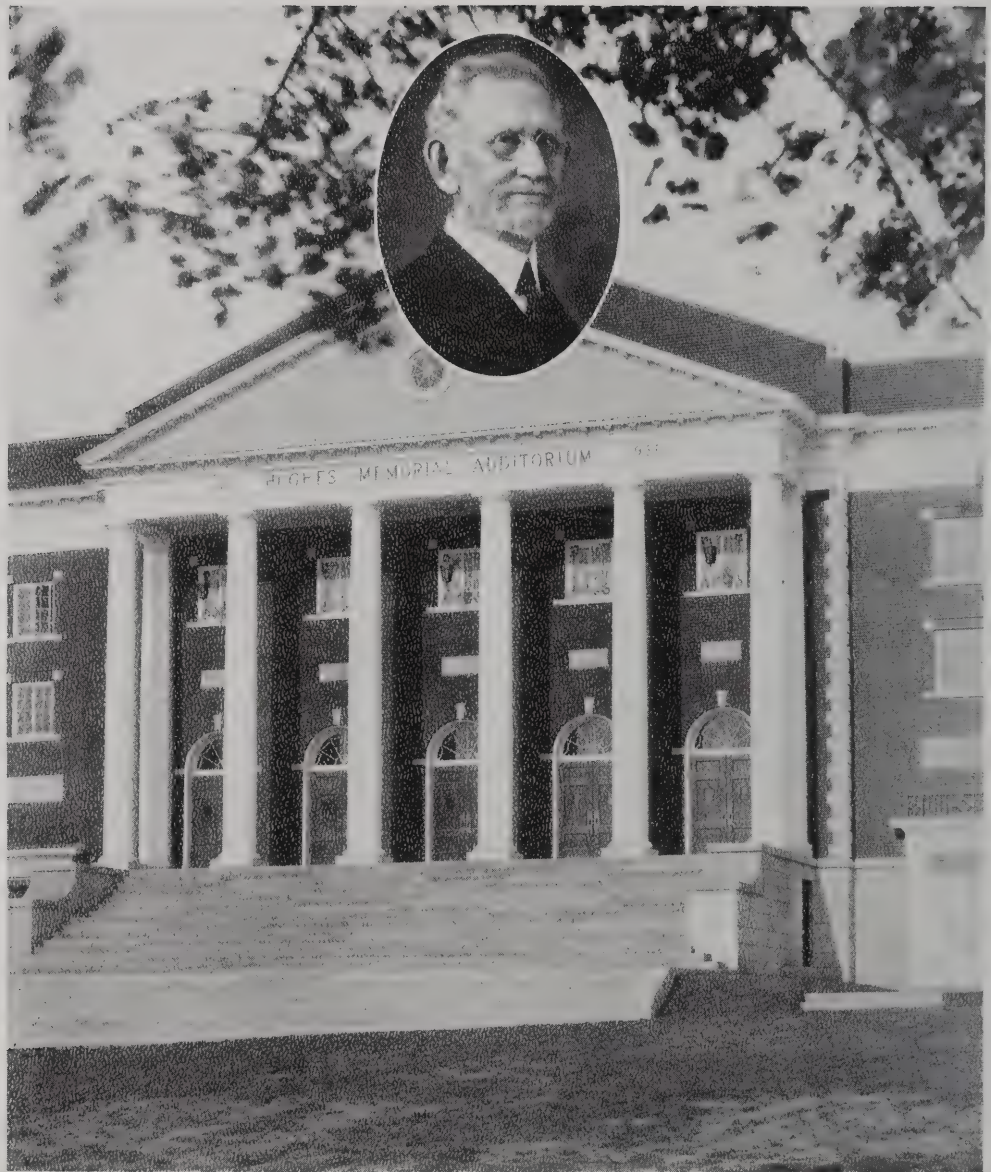

*I*N the year 1750 the first white man visited the Kentucky region. Eight years later Daniel Boone, with a small party, marked out the "Wilderness Trail," extending from Inglis' Ferry, in what is now West Virginia, through Cumberland Gap to the Falls of the Ohio. Along this pathway, as well as down the Ohio River, following in the footsteps of these trail blazers, came hundreds of pioneers, rough, hardy, determined men and brave women, who in defending their lives, their families, and their homes from the flaming torches and bloody axes of the Indians, earned for Kentucky the title of "the dark and bloody ground." It is the purpose of this book to furnish a glimpse of pioneer Kentucky by presenting a few of the heroic characters who moulded its history.

A dream with spring the old frequented places."*

*"Order is a lovely thing;
On disarray it lays its wing,
Teaching simplicity to sing."*

*"High-arched and lighted soft through panes of sacred story,
It awes us with its 'peace be still' and gives a sense of glory."*

"Sweet Memory wafted by thy gentle gale, Oft up the stream of Time I turn my sail."

PROMINENT among the early Kentucky pioneers, and the one to whom, perhaps, history gives greatest credit for the opening of this wild territory, was Colonel Daniel Boone, who settled with his family at Boonesborough in 1775, and became famous as an Indian Scout.

Rev. Guy Wilson, Executive Secretary

The Departments of Missions, Evangelism, Life Service and Publicity are under the direction of the Executive Secretary. During winter and summer months inspirational groups of students in Glee Clubs, choruses and quartettes serve in churches, tabernacles and camp meetings in various states.

From a central office at the college the Executive Secretary directs all inspirational and financial activities in the field. Subscriptions and pledges are paid in through this department and Rev. Wilson keeps in closest touch with the thousands of Asbury friends scattered throughout this nation and foreign countries.

The wide ministry of Rev. Guy Wilson in evangelistic work during the past years gives to him a peculiar fitness for the task to which he has been assigned. The success of the department has been pronounced during the past year, and it is the desire of the administration that all friends of Asbury everywhere avail themselves of this office to secure free literature and fullest information concerning the work and influence of Asbury throughout the world.

May the spirit of Asbury be the main of the Asbury
College and
world.

Announcing

Mr. W. W. Cary, Business Manager

On the 15th of September, 1929, Mr. W. W. Cary joined the administrative staff of Asbury College in the capacity of business manager.

It is with pleasure that we take advantage of the opportunity of recording in the pages of this Year Book the appreciation which is felt by our college body for Mr. Cary's very capable business leadership during the year.

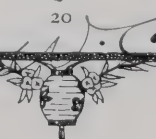

Mr. Cary comes to Asbury College with an admirable business record directly from Chicago Evangelistic Institute, where for two years he was vice-president and business manager. He has been cradled and reared in the Holiness Movement and has felt a definite call to leave secular work and identify himself in a business way with interdenominational Holiness work. He feels that his administrative position at Asbury College is an open door for just such work as he has been called to perform. May the Lord grant His blessing upon his services in our midst.

LEWIS ROBESON AKERS.

Greetings to one of the Asbury family.
W. W. Cary

INDIAN tribes across the borders in Ohio and Tennessee frequently sent war parties to plunder and pillage the Kentucky settlements. Among the Indian leaders was Tecumseh, a Shawnee chieftain, who ranked second only to Pontiac as an organizer of the Indian tribes.

Mrs. Ann Pogue, the creator of fireside industries in Kentucky, brought the first spinning wheel into the territory, but found no flax. With the dauntless ingenuity of the frontier woman, she spun wild nettle fibre into material to clothe her household.

IN the list of Kentucky's heroes must be included the pioneer preachers. While not the first to carry the gospel into the wilderness, Bishop William McKendree, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was one of the foremost of those who, at the risk of their lives, went about among the frontier settlements preaching the "unsearchable riches of Christ."

Faith of Our Fathers

*Faith of our fathers! living still
In spite of dungeon, fire, and sword:
O how our hearts beat high with joy
Whene'er we hear that glorious word!
Faith of our fathers! holy faith!
We will be true to thee till death!*

*Our fathers, chained in prisons dark,
Were still in heart and conscience free:
How sweet would be their children's fate,
If they, like them, could die for thee!
Faith of our fathers! holy faith!
We will be true to thee till death!*

*Faith of our fathers! we will love
Both friend and foe in all our strife:
And preach thee, too, as love knows how,
By kindly words and virtuous life:
Faith of our fathers! holy faith!
We will be true to thee till death!*

FREDERICK W. FABER

General George Rogers Clark, in 1778, with the magnetic leadership of a great commander, led a small band of Kentucky frontiersmen through forest and flood in the severity of a northern winter, to conquer the Northwest Territory.

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATE—Under the capable supervision of Coach B. I. Wiley the debate teams this year have done excellent work, gaining wide recognition and distinction. The men's team toured the East, where they met some of the foremost colleges and universities of that section. The women's team went into Ohio and debated with several prominent schools. Altogether the season has been a decided success.

As the Green and White quintet plays its last season of inter-class basketball, one noticeable fact is the consistent and evenly played game that is being displayed. Instead of their strength soaring or waning on various occasions, with no apparent cause, steady and persistent play is shown on the part of every man.

There is probably no more formidable an array of basketball players in the college than the fellows who comprise the Junior team. With a speed which characterizes them as a veritable human tornado on the offensive, and the doggedness which characterizes their every play on the defensive, the Blue Jays still retain those qualities which made them runners-up for the championship during the last season.

Good sportsmanship marks the playing of this team which for two years has been the runner-up for the girls' championship. Unde-

Co-operation is the word that best expresses the outstanding characteristic of the team that bears the colors of the Class of '32. The "Bulldogs" can boast no star player, no Herculean guard, no whirlwind forward, no long-armed basket thrower, but simply five hard-working fellows, united in purpose to do their best in upholding their class.

Senior-Sophomore Boys

The Senior-Sophomore baseball team for the past three years has finished second for the Asbury championship. This year the squad has high hopes of annexing the championship title, and with a team composed of practically the same fast, hard-fighting men as last year the longed-for crown may fall into their possession.

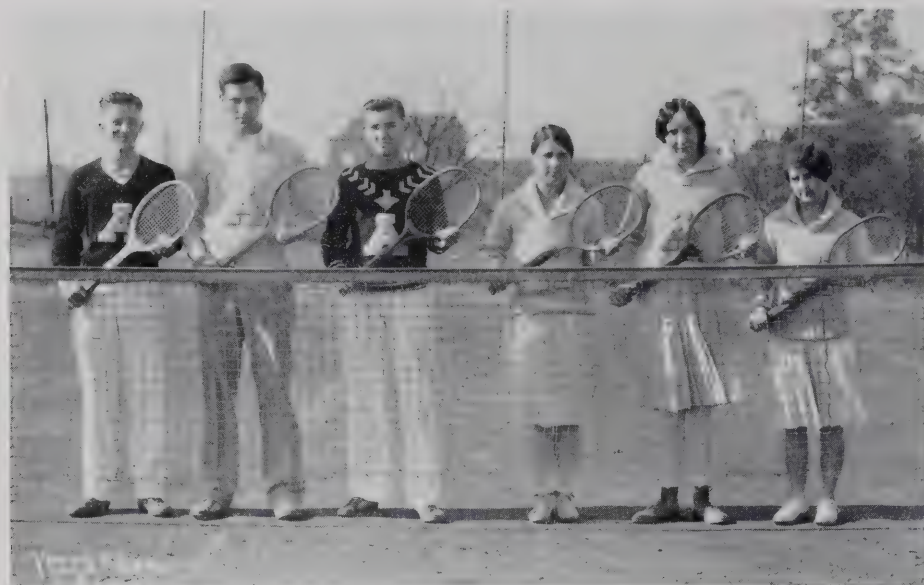

Junior-Freshman Boys

The baseball championship for the last two consecutive years has been won by the Junior-Freshman team. A host of new material has this year been added to the already strong line-up of hard-hitting batsmen and dependable pitchers. These boys have always displayed a stamina which has carried them on to victory.

Tennis

Tennis has gained recognition among the students of Asbury as one of the most profitable and enjoyable of sports. The fall and spring tournaments are met with much enthusiasm. Our most outstanding player, J. L. Stokes, has successfully forged his way to victory against all opposition for the last four years. The proficiency of the other five has also won them letters.

Track

It is an Asburian tradition that in the spring of every year one Monday be set aside for field day, on which is held the intra-mural track meet for both boys and girls. Severe training characterizes the activity of the entrants both before and after the preliminary eliminations. The above athletes have succeeded in winning letters as a symbol of their achievements.

WHILE not included directly in the period of Kentucky's pioneer history, nevertheless Abraham Lincoln, rail splitter, war President, and emancipator, was a product of that period, a man whose character was moulded by the ideals and standards of the pioneers—Kentucky's greatest gift to the nation.

AFTERWORD

Upon the lives of its early settlers has Kentucky been built. Their toil, their blood, their very spirits have been inwrought in its structure. Mrs. Fannie Casseday Duncan has aptly said: "Making the story of Kentucky is like making a mosaic. It is the work of both artists and artisans. Rude and brawny tillers in the soil hacked out its foundation; sun-crowned heads carried its spires upward. One class is not to be honored above the other." Together they have set up a mighty commonwealth.

Has any state a more glorious history?

We Wish To Acknowledge

The kind offices of the architect in designing a private entrance to the staff room for Herb and Red.

The kindly solicitude of Red in giving us a half hour rest between 10 and 10:30 p. m.

The forethought of the former occupants of the staff room in leaving us a chair that collapses at the psychological moment of the business manager's nap.

The enthusiasm which the Speech Department inspired in Viola Swigert before Dick made his appearance.

The diversion furnished by the advent of cats, toads, and edibles in our window.

The kindness of the printers in making a few typographical errors so that we can give them credit for the mistakes of the book.

The kindness of Tony Guiles and Ed Carothers in keeping the staff room clean during the holidays.

The considerateness of Carl Matthews in relieving us of the care of the associate editor occasionally.

The generosity of various friends who donated enough candles to enable us to get through the dark hours.

The neighborliness of the Collegian staff in the exchange of carbon paper, matches, etc.

The kind consideration of a Virginia school ma'am in writing the editor frequently enough to keep him in a tolerably good humor.

The diligent efforts of the conservatory students in furnishing such delightful entertainment all day long.

The enthusiastic interest displayed by Nellie Moore and John Franklin in demanding their books about two months early.

Miss Carmichael's loyalty in winding her clock to furnish us a time-piece in the absence of the chimes.

The "prudent" night hours of the Collegian Business Manager, who kept us from dozing with the "hunt-and-peck" system.

A. W. Townsend's efficiency in keeping silent the conservatory halls.

The use of the library's O'Cedar Oil, which is so efficient in touching-up office furniture.

Euna K.'s thanks for the privacy of the staff room.

The greenness of the Freshmen for furnishing amusement in our leisure hours.

MY OLD KENTUCKY HOME

STEPHEN C. FOSTER

The sun shines bright in the old Kentucky home,
'Tis summer, the darkies are gay;
The corn-top's ripe and the meadows in the bloom,
While the birds make music all the day;
The young folks roll on the little cabin floor,
All merry, all happy and bright;
By'n by hard times comes a knocking at the door,
Then my old Kentucky home good night!

The head must bow and the back will have to bend,
Wherever the darky may go;
A few more days, and the trouble all will end,
In the field where the sugar-canes grow;
A few more days for to tote the weary load,
No matter 'twill never be light;
A few more days till we totter on the road,
Then my old Kentucky home good night!

Weep no more my lady, O weep no more to day!
We will sing one song for the old Kentucky home,
For the old Kentucky home, far a-way.

Dear George:

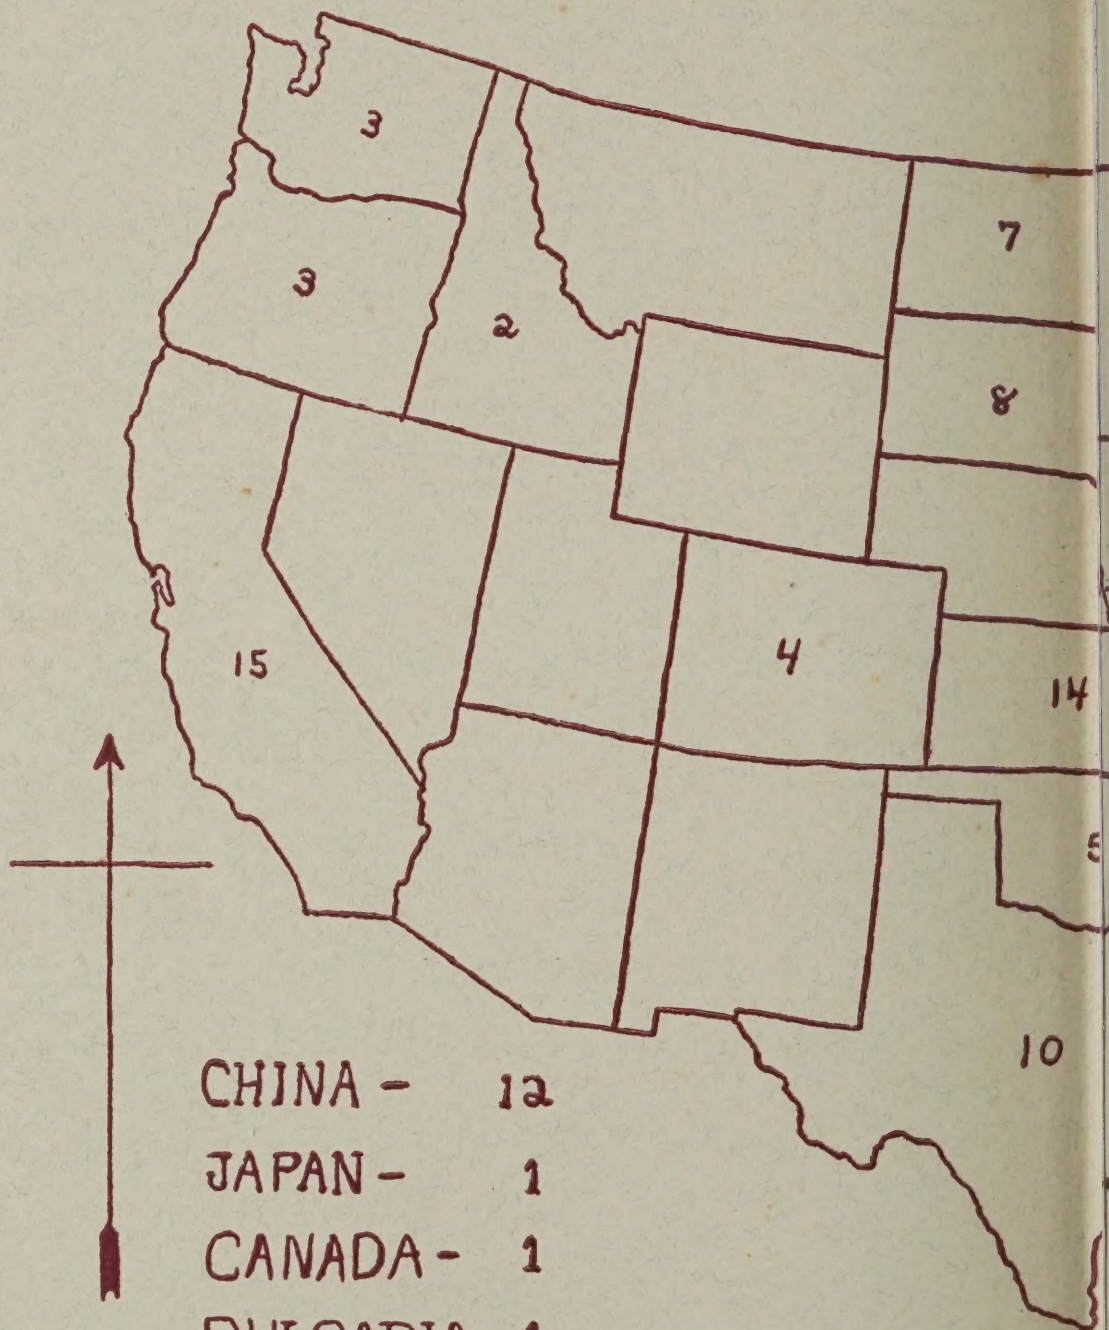

I have enjoyed knowing you and thank God for your Christian life. I hope you will be back next year and pray God's richest blessings upon you.

George, let us go out of here and amount to something for the Lord. not saying "I can't" but "I will God being my helper."
